

TREES TUMBLE

HOME HEAVILY DAMAGED AS STORM HITS ARDMORE

A storm packing estimated 70-mile-per-hour gusts ripped into the western side of the Saanich Peninsula last Sunday afternoon toppling trees, power and telephone lines. Hardest hit were the Ardmore, Towner Park and Wains Cross Road areas.

Ardmore district bore the full force of the storm as it funnelled out of Saanich Inlet from the south-west. Unestimated damage was caused at the home of J. J. Sims, 9170 Inverness, when a tall fir crashed to the ground, demolishing a corner of the house as it fell. Mrs. Sims' two-year-old car parked outside the home was completely written off.

The tree causing the damage was one of a dozen large timbers which were felled around the house by the storm. Driveway to the building was blocked by eight trees and workers are still clearing the area.

B.C. Hydro troubleshooter crews were busiest on Wains Cross Road where they worked most of the afternoon restoring power where a "chain reaction" toppled trees onto power lines. All homes in the area were receiving electricity by 9 p.m.

Heavy rain following the frost and snow of the past few weeks was blamed for bringing many of the trees tumbling to the ground. The ground was sloppy and little assistance from wind was required to tear the roots from the earth.

Telephone work crews were also busy during and after the tempest. In some cases, perfect connections had not been made at press time as lines were intertwined with tree limbs.

Rotarian

ALAN SPOONER

Sidney banker, A. R. Spooner was elected president of the Sidney Rotary Club last week. He will take over the duties of G. D. Frizzell when he is installed later in the year. Serving with Mr. Spooner are, D. W. Ruffie, treasurer; George Hafer, sergeant-at-arms; and directors T. J. Bradley, Andries Boas, Pete Clark and Jack Crossley. Position of secretary in the service club was retained by Alec Effa.

Lynda Rankin Braves Downpour

Sirenuous Week-End For Mainland Guide As Leaders Here Set Tests

In the pouring rain of Saturday morning a group of Girl Guides trekked from Sidney to McDonald Park, there to establish a camp and prepare a meal. The weather was a threat to the project, but under the direction of a 16-year-old Guide from Point Grey they rapidly found dry shelter and prepared a welcome meal.

The project was all part of the greatest challenge presented to Lynda Rankin in her 16 years. A member of the 42nd University District Company, Lynda had come to Sidney for the week-end to seek her Gold Cord, the highest award possible in the Girl Guide movement.

ONLY PART

The trek to the local park was only part of her week-end trial. Lynda had boarded the Tsawwassen ferry early on Saturday with her orders still unopened. She was instructed to report to the Guide Commissioner at Swartz Bay, Mrs. K. C. Cantwell. From that moment her problems began.

On Saturday in addition to taking the younger Guides for their hike, Lynda attended at the home of Lieut. and Mrs. George Pumble, Jura Ave., where she assisted in the management of a young family.

Her next duty was to assist Mrs. Owen Thomas in the management of her drygoods store in Sidney.

LECTURE TO GUIDES

Lynda also gave a brief lecture to local Guides on the country she had chosen to study, Brazil. On Sunday she took a Sunday school class at St. Paul's United Church.

The rest of the day was free for sightseeing. Her ordeal was over. Shuffled between various Guide leaders in the area, Lynda spent the week-end as guest of Lieut. Cmdr. S. E. Soward, West Saanich Road.

The Gold Cord is an award offered to Guides who have completed their training program and are considered to be likely to achieve the further tests within a prescribed age limit. Few Guides gain the opportunity of competing for it and of those who seek it, many fail the final tests.

FIRST VENTURE

The Sidney area was selected on this occasion as the final testing ground for the young Vancouver Guide. It is the first time that this district has been invited to participate in such a challenge.

In the event of her success, Lynda will receive the award from the Lieutenant-Governor of the province.

North Saanich Hosts Girls' Basketball

The second two-day basketball tournament in as many weeks will be played at North Saanich secondary school this week-end.

On February 8 and 9, North the lower Vancouver Island girls' basketball play-offs. Teams will come from high schools in school districts 61, 62, 63 and 64. The games will commence at 4:30 p.m. on Friday and run through until 10 p.m. The following day, Saturday, they will resume at 9 a.m. and continue until 10 p.m.

It is only two weeks ago since a similarly long tournament, the Peninsula Basketball League play-offs, was held at the school.

GIVEN INDIAN NAME

Indians of Vancouver Island gathered at the Tanout Reserve at East Saanich on Saturday afternoon to pay their own tribute to more than 100 years of modern history.

Hundreds of visitors from bands all over Vancouver Island assembled to greet the newly appointed Bishop Remi De Roo, of Victoria, and mark the second time a Roman Catholic bishop landed on the beach at the Indian Reserve in more than a century.

TIME TO PAUSE WITH SIDNEY GUIDER

Lynda Rankin, 16-year-old Point Grey Guide is seen with Guide Capt. Mrs. T. Sharock. The candidate for the Gold Cord spent the week-end in Sidney undertaking a variety of tests to ascertain her qualification for the ultimate award in the girls' recreation program.

Albert Doney Named For New Term With Fall Fair Group

Albert Doney is to serve a further term as president of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society following the recent annual meeting.

The meeting introduced a number of new features into its routine. The board of directors will meet regularly twice each month until the fall fair and a master plan for improvement to the grounds at Saanichton is being drawn up in readiness for presentation to the board.

The meeting also approved a closer liaison between the committees responsible for various aspects of the fall fair and the board of directors.

Members of the society have been invited to communicate with any board member if they can be of assistance in the preparation of the fair.

Officers and directors include Pat Hoole, vice-president; Robert

Heads Ratepayers

LT. COL. J. H. LAROCQUE

Former village commissioner Lt. Col. J. H. Larocque was elected president of the Sidney Ratepayers' Association at its annual meeting on Tuesday evening. Vice-president of the organization is John Hicks, with Mrs. Clifford Mills secretary.

The association expressed concern at the failure of the North Saanich War Memorial Park to reach completion and will communicate its concern to the park society.

Col. Larocque takes over from Sidney accountant D. W. Ruffie, who held office during the past year.

Jendrossek Elected To Board Here

—Water District

George Jendrossek, Weiler Ave., was elected trustee of Sidney Waterworks District at the annual meeting on Tuesday evening in St. Andrew's Hall.

Mr. Jendrossek contested the single vacant seat with Lieut. Col. J. H. Larocque. Former incumbent C. L. Hayward withdrew from the affairs of the district at the expiry of his term of office.

Sidney accountant D. W. Ruffie retained his office of auditor when ratepayers voted him in in favor of a former district auditor, George Holt.

Chair was taken during the meeting by Village Chairman A. A. Cormack, who presided over the election.

Open All Day

Motor vehicle licences will be on sale at the village office in Sidney all day Monday throughout February.

The extra hours have been introduced in token of the heavy demands for licences here.

INVESTIGATION

Amalgamation Of Water Area And Village Sought

Call for amalgamation in the Sidney area was sounded on Tuesday evening when a retiring trustee of Sidney Waterworks District introduced a resolution seeking integration of the Sidney Waterworks District and the Village of Sidney.

C. L. Hayward formally proposed the establishment of a committee of trustees and village commissioners to investigate absorption of the district.

The motion, seconded by Robert Thompson, was approved though far from unanimously.

Under such a plan as is envisaged by the resolution the water district would be administered as a village department and its headquarters would be in the village administration centre.

Water Mains Need Replacement Here

—Miles Of Wood Stave Pipe

Despite a steady replacement of pipeline over the years the condition of Sidney water mains requires a replacement of seven miles of wood stave pipe during the next several years, ratepayers of Sidney Waterworks District were told on Tuesday evening.

The replacement program will follow a schedule prepared by the board to cover a number of years and to avoid borrowing for the purpose.

Both Chairman R. B. Brethour and Field Committee Chairman L. T. Wadhams spoke of pipe replacement, at the annual meeting of the district.

Survey of water sources in the district has been carried out during the past year, reported Mr. Brethour and a number of test augur holes have been drilled.

The Dean Park area, seeking to enter the district, financed a survey of the feasibility, reported Mr. Brethour. The area to the north of Sidney had sought a water supply but this service was dependent upon the acquisition of the Swartz Bay pipeline and many obstacles had been presented to the transfer of this system, he observed.

The past year had seen many new homes and subdivisions and the water district had 21,000 feet of pipeline and hooked up 41 new connections.

Mr. Wadhams reported that the potential supply of the Sidney system was 5,000,000 gallons per month. This may be augmented by a supply from Elk Lake when needed, he observed. Estimated capacity of the Sidney system is 1,300 consumers, he reported.

Regular tests of the water had revealed an excellent quality, he concluded.

No Decision On Bank For Brentwood

No further developments have been recorded in negotiations for a bank in the Brentwood area, but The Review has learned that something may transpire at the end of this week or early next week.

Negotiating with officials of an undisclosed bank is hardware merchant Sam Dickie of Brentwood. Mr. Dickie reports that a petition started by him calling for the establishment of a bank in the area is growing rapidly. The petition is still open for additional signatures at Brentwood Hardware on West Saanich Road.

CHAMBER BANQUET ON MAY 10

Annual banquet of the Central Saanich Chamber of Commerce will be held at Brenta Lodge on Friday, May 10, this year.

In previous years, the annual meeting of the chamber has been held in conjunction with the banquet, but this year the meeting was held in January following a decision last fall to change the fiscal year of the chamber. Starting this year, the banquet will be a purely social affair.

RATEPAYER IMPATIENT

MANY OBSTACLES TO PIPE LINE ACQUISITION HERE

Obstacles to the acquisition of the Swartz Bay pipeline by Sidney Waterworks District have included problems with both Dominion and provincial government departments.

L. T. Wadhams told ratepayers of the district on Tuesday evening. The demand of the department of national defence for a six-inch connection along Mills Road had proved a stumbling block, but the department had now agreed to use a connection through the new administration centre. The present line will remain until a replacement has been laid, reported the trustee.

HEAVY DEMAND. Demand on the Swartz Bay line from such a connection would be prohibitive, observed the water trustee.

There remains a series of settlements with the provincial government before any progress can be made, he added.

Andries Boas, of the Curtis Point area, had enquired whether there was a deadline on negotiations or whether the debate could continue for years to come.

Visit Of New Bishop Recalls Indian History

BY CANOE

Fr. Demers left Quebec with the Hudson's Bay Co. brigade, to travel to Oregon by canoe. For a year he delayed his journey in Manitoba, until his companion had managed to cross half the continent to join him.

Under the escort of Chief Trader Hargreave, the two priests continued their western journey.

There was an ambitious project. They were to be responsible for all Catholics as well as missionary work, between California and Alaska, west of the Rockies. The trip to the eastern boundary of this vast territory took the two priests 150 days. The caravan was far from small. In addition to personnel and supplies they were accompanied by a team of 75 horses.

This was the background to a visit to Saanich Indians some 10 years later.

When the far-travelled priest Fr. Demers was named the first Bishop of Vancouver Island he was presented with a diocese of mar-

MEMBERS OF ST. PAUL'S GATHER FOR SUPPER AND ANNUAL MEETING HERE

Some 45 members of St. Paul's United Church enjoyed a supper in the church hall on Tuesday evening, Jan. 29, preceding the annual meeting of the church. Rev. C. H. Whitmore presided at the meeting and Miss H. Nunn acted as secretary.

A short memorial service was held for the following members and adherents who passed away in 1962: W. G. Palmer, J. McGram, G. Adams, P. Porter, W. Armstrong, and Mesdames G. H. Taylor, D. W. Ritchie, W. I. Anderson, F. G. Hogg, A. Wood, S. Duncan, L. Lawson and H. J. McIntyre.

Rev. Whitmore reported for the session stating that he had officiated at nine weddings, 26 funerals and eight baptisms. Miss D. Williamson read the secretary's report in the absence of L. R. Christian. Other reports received were as follows: United Church Women, Mrs. W. Dawson; missionary and maintenance, Miss Nunn; Sunday school, Mrs. A. O. Berry; senior choir, Mrs. Pedlow; morning choir, Miss Nunn; A.O.T.S., J. Spurr; building fund, G. Smith, and the George Pringle camp, Rev. Whitmore.

The following were elected to the office of elders: J. Spurr, J. Pedlow, H. R. Lawson, Mr. Adsett and Mrs. W. H. Palmer. Stewards are Mrs. Sidney Roberts, A. O. Nyhus, E. J. Smith, G. Hulme, D. McKinnon, D. J. Miller, E. Wood and W. W. Gardner. Mrs. J. Pedlow will represent the United Church Women. Visitation, A. O. Nyhus and a representative to be chosen from U.C.W. session and stewards.

Thanks were tendered Rev. and Mrs. Whitmore, Mrs. F. Ferguson Reid, Mrs. Sidney Roberts, Miss D. Williamson, W. I. Anderson and L. R. Christian for their untiring services rendered to St. Paul's.

Rotary Anns Donate $10 To Diabetic Society

In the absence of president, Mrs. F. Derry, Mrs. R. Stenton presided at the recent Rotary Ann meeting held at the home of Mrs. D. Ruffie, Weiler Ave.

At this meeting, a donation of $10 was given to the diabetic society.

The next meeting of the Rotary Anns will be held at the home of Mrs. H. Dawson, Third St., in the form of an auction. Raffle prize, won by Mrs. E. Slegg, was donated by Mrs. H. Tobin. Following the meeting refreshments were served by co-hostesses Mesdames M. R. Eaton, P. Drummond and P. Clarke.

Miss Diane Hulme, Miss Annette and Lynette Venables, Miss Maurine Sealey and Mrs. G. Gray were among the invited guests from Sidney.

Mr. and Mrs. Less Underwood, Vancouver, were recent guests at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bloor, Fourth St. After spending five weeks with her cousins, Major and Mrs. A. E. Smart, McTavish Road, Miss Joyce Stewart left for her home in Bulawayo, Southern Rhodesia.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Simpson, Birch Road, attended the Progressive Conservative convention in Vancouver last week-end. They also spent some time with friends and relatives.

Among those who attended the future teacher's conference at U.B.C. recently were Lynn Brackenbury and Ann Jeffreys.

Mrs. E. Kirkness returned to her home on Third St., after being hospitalized at Rest Haven for the last few weeks.

At a meeting held Friday, Jan. 18 at the Malespina Hotel in Nanaimo, M. R. Eaton, of Craigville Motel, was appointed as one of the directors of the newly-formed Visitor Services Association.

E. I. Tom Jones has returned to his home on Chale Road after being a patient at Rest Haven Hospital for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Baker and daughter, Cordelia, of West Vancouver, were week-end guests at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Laura Baker, Setchell Road.

Mrs. S. Roberts, Shoreacres Road, entertained at a linen shower given in honor of Miss Diane Pryznik, a bride-elect of this month. Corsages of red, pink and white carnations were presented to the guest of honor, also her mother, Mrs. F. Pryznik and grandmother, Mrs. Ina Thomas. A lovely arrangement of spring flowers centred the refreshment table. Among those present were Mesdames M. Soos, W. Gardner, G. D. Norbury, M. Davis, J. H. Nunn, C. Pearson, W. Tripp, C. E. Waters, J. Zabel, R. L. Ritchie, L. Campbell, Misses Hazel Nunn, Joan Gardner, Barbara Roberts.

"MR. TOPAZE" FOLLOWS "THE SUNDOWNERS"

"The Sundowners", a sprightly, earthy story of Australia and the family of an itinerant, hard-living sheep drover, will be shown at the Gem Theatre in Sidney, February 7, 8 and 9.

Briskly told, excitingly dramatized and animated with performance of exceptional gifts and personal appeal, "The Sundowners" is the first Hollywood motion picture to present an authentic view of life in the Australian "outback". Directed by Fred Zinnemann, the film stars Deborah Kerr, Robert Mitchum, Peter Ustinov, Glynis Johns and Dina Merrill.

Next week, on February 11, 12 and 13, the Gem will present Peter Sellers in "Mr. Topaze".

Comedy in a class of its own, "Mr. Topaze" proves that crime can pay for some people. Co-starring in the movie are Nadia Gray and Herbert Lom.

HOSPITAL OFFERS COURSE FOR EXPECTANT MOTHERS

Rest Haven Hospital has begun its 1963 orientation tours by the Parent-Craft Class members.

Organized under the Public Health Services by Mrs. K. Richmond, R.N., public health nurse for Sidney and North Saanich, the weekly classes conducted for expectant mothers climaxed with a tour of the hospital they expect to visit for the arrival of the new baby.

This type of training for child-bearing is not new. It has been built up carefully and gradually over a period of a quarter of a century. It is intended to offer prospective parents adequate tools with which to build a strong, happy, healthy and secure family.

There are six classes for each group. Up to four groups are oriented each year in the growth and development of the baby, general health care for the mother and the new baby and his needs. This excellent instruction course is climaxed with a hospital tour. Husbands usually accompany their wives, and tour the maternity area.

Seven major B.C. hospital projects completed in 1962 cost an estimated $6,000,000. B.C. centres with major hospital construction under way at the year-end included: Nanaimo, Prince George, Grand Forks, McBride, Victoria, Powell River, Burns Lake, Salmon Arm, Queen Charlotte City, Terrace and New Westminster.

This matter of calling Brentwood Bay Brentwood came to the attention of Central Saanich Chamber of Commerce recently when the monthly meeting was held at Brentwood, or . . . Bay. Weavers Guild To Take Part In Winnipeg Show Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild held its meeting on January 22, in the Art Gallery. An invitation to contribute to the Canadian Weavers' Exhibition to be held in Winnipeg in June, was discussed and accepted.

The guild has obtained a room over the Island Weavers' store on Government St., in which to hold study groups and to keep its equipment. Open house will be held on February 12, both afternoon and evening.

Threads were on display from several Canadian firms and arrangements were made to order whatever supplies they required.

A question box period produced some useful information on dyes, laundering finished goods, weaving with linen and other problems.

The Christmas party held at the home of Mrs. G. Singleton was reported a great success.

The next meeting will be held on February 26, in the Art Gallery. Slides from London District Weavers will be shown.

A congregational "pot luck" supper was held at the Brentwood United Church Hall last Thursday, arranged by the U.C.W. Following the supper the children were entertained with films and games in the hall while the annual meeting took place in the church. The meeting was largely concerned with receiving reports of the various departments of the church. The report of the session was given by J. H. B. Watson, followed by reports from the committee of stewards, Sunday school, Messengers, Explorers, Tyros, Sigma-C group, U.C.W., choir and the missionary and maintenance committees. The financial report of each group was also given and a proposed budget established for 1963.

New members nominated to the board of stewards were Mrs. J. H. B. Watson, W. D. Reith and D. Adams. Votes of thanks were passed to various members for their valued services before the close of the meeting.

Bishop's Visit Recalls History

ginal significance. He had no cathedral, no church and no priests. It was a diocese with only a bishop. In 1847 the newly appointed Bishop Demers came to the newly established Hudson's Bay post at Victoria.

FRIENDLY INDIANS

Before the arrival of the new bishop a Catholic priest, Rev. Fr. J. B. Bolduc had visited Victoria after travelling by sea for nearly 13 months from eastern Canada. He reported that he had gone ashore in 1843 with the captain of the Beaver. He ventured to a village at the end of a nice little bay and was formally met by more than 500 Indians. The same bay is no longer an Indian community. It is Cadboro Bay.

In his reminiscences, Fr. Bolduc spoke warmly of the courtesy and assistance offered by Chief Factor James Douglas. When he left he added a note of appreciation of the help given by C. Brothie, commandant of the Beaver.

DELAYED BY WAR

After his consecration in 1847 Bishop Demers went to eastern Canada and Europe for assistance in raising funds for his new diocese. He was delayed by the wars in France and it was not until September, 1851, that he took possession of his diocese.

Shortly after his arrival on Vancouver Island the new bishop made his first visit, by sea, to Saanich.

More than a century ago he landed at Saanichton Bay and there erected a cross. He was accepted by the Saanich Indians and his arrival was woven into their history.

At the time the East Saanich area was the largest population of Indians on the Peninsula. There were about 400 people residing at Tsaut. Under the direction of the first bishop a number of the early priests of the island visited Saanich. In May, 1850, Rev. Fr. Lemphre, O.M.I., spent a week on the Saanich Reserve.

In 1859 Rev. Fr. Chirouse, O.M.I., came to East Saanich and established a mission post. Rev. Fr. Joyal and Brother Blanchet erected a log house and used it as a church and residence. They ministered to the Saanich Indians as well as the San Juan Indians.

CONFLICT

There is a story of this early priest's conflict with the Tsaut Indians. The chief was aged and ailing and a Joe Kolesuth aspired to the office. His candidature failed to meet with the priest's enthusiasm and he was outspoken in his opposition. Although Kolesuth was an intelligent and hefty young man, he was also a wild man and the missionary looked askance at the possible results of his chieftainship.

When the followers of the aspirant threatened his life, the priest left the reserve and went further afield. In the meantime the Oblate Superior at Esquimalt, Rev. Fr. D'Herbomez built a church on the Tsautlip Reserve at West Saanich. It was ultimately converted to a camphouse by the native people.

First permanent priest to be appointed to Saanich was Rev. Fr. J. M. Mandart. A native of Brittany, he met Bishop Demers when the latter was in France. He was interested in the far west and its problems and after his ordination he sought to find his way here. In 1862 he arrived in Victoria and promptly left for Saanich.

He built a church and a residence of a fallen tree and made it his home for a year. With the assistance of a Salt Spring Island Kanaka he constructed a log cabin in the general vicinity of the Catholic rectory today. Later he constructed a church which was opened in 1876. The building was removed recently after having

Guide Notes

The 1st Brentwood Guides are again holding their weekly meetings at the Scout hall under the able leadership of Mrs. J. J. Delbrouck, who is now a warranted Captain and assisted by Lieutenant Mrs. M. B. Lloyd.

At the January 29 Guide meeting several mothers were present for a fly-up ceremony and badge presentation.

Former Brown Owl Mrs. R. Scholfield helped to conduct the ceremony. Judy Martin, Anne Scholfield, Claudia Creed and Allison Isaac have now joined the Guide company.

Elizabeth Tanner and Bernice Delbrouck received the hostess badge. Pam Brock received the Little House Emblem.

At the Local Association meeting a come-as-you-are coffee party was arranged for March 27 from 10 a.m. to 11.30 a.m. at Brent Lodge.

Now that Guides have started it is hoped that someone will come forward as a Brownie leader.

OPEN HOUSE SUCCESSFUL

Open house held by Central Saanich Volunteer Fire Department last Saturday was a complete success with an estimated 300 adults and children inspecting the equipment. This was the first open house held by the department.

Fire Chief C. E. (Larry) Rowles said he was very pleased with the turnout and was glad to see so much interest shown by the public in the department's operation.

Brentwood Women's Institute held the monthly social meeting at the W.I. Hall on Tuesday afternoon. Slides shown by Mrs. R. Bigelow of her trip through the Interior were enjoyed. Plans were made for the Valentine costume party, held each year in aid of the Queen Alexandra Solarium. The party will be held at the hall on West Saanich Road, on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 9, at 2 p.m. Members expressed the hope that all parents in the district will attend with their children. Plans were also made for catering to the teachers' supper to be held in the W.I. Hall. Tea was then served by the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Woodward spent the week-end visiting with the latter's brother in Vancouver. Soon after their return they received news of his death. Their many friends have extended their sincere sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Critchley and two children, who have been residing at Brentwood Auto Court for a few weeks, have now moved to the home they purchased on Keating Cross Road. They are starting a new business in the district of sports goods.

served as church, rectory and school.

Fr. Mandart was a somewhat eccentric man, according to the records of the time. He would remove his shoes when walking in the country and sling them around his neck. He never wore socks except when visiting the Cathedral in Victoria and he would never accept a ride.

He recalled only one incident which suggested he might be in danger from the Indians whose contacts with western life were slim. Hearing noises from the brush on the side of the road when he was returning to the rectory he heard a voice say in the Indian dialect, "Better not, it's the priest!" There was the rustle of silently departing men and all was quiet. He later assumed that a group planned to attack and rob a white man, but decided against it when they recognized him.

Second resident priest of Saanich was Rev. Fr. A. J. Vullingsh, who came here in 1893 to assume charge of a parish now numbering many whites as well as Indians and one which had been without a resident pastor for a number of years. The later history of the parish extends into modern history.

LAST ACROSS

Bishop Demers, as a young priest was one of the last priests to cross Canada with the Hudson's Bay Co. Later aspirants for the journey were refused permission and reached the west coast by means of the trip by sea to the Panama Isthmus and a further sea journey after the overland trek.

This was the background to the ceremony on Saturday when Bishop De Roo became the first white man to be formally taken into the Indian band and given an Indian name. As Siem Le Pleet Skoetum, he is a member of the band.

His name was adapted from Swan Lake, a feature of the Maritime community where Bishop De Roo spent his childhood.

Second historic feature of the ceremony was the presentation to the visiting prelate of a sash stick, the original carving by which the early Catholic missionaries conveyed the message of Christianity with the minimum of language communication.

Clad in a ceremonial blanket at the big house, Bishop De Roo was enrolled into the band by Chief Edwin Underwood, of Tsaut and the big gathering.

Project was the idea of a small group of Indians from Tsautlip Reserve at West Saanich, who made all preparations and plans for the occasion. Prominent among them was Philip Paul, who commended the gesture and welcomed the new Indian.

Benediction followed the ceremonies, at the small church on the reserve.

SAANICHTON

The Community Club "500" card party scheduled for January 30 was called off due to the cold snap experienced at that time, and these fortnightly card parties will resume on February 13.

M. Michell is recuperating in his home on East Saanich Road, following an accident near Duncan, which put him in the Duncan hospital for a few days.

Mrs. W. Bate, Central Saanich Road, is back home after spending the past two weeks in Vancouver, where she took charge of her three grandsons, Greg, Michael and Paul Cruickshank, while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cruickshank, were holidaying in Hawaii.

Jack Currie, who has been employed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holte, Cultra Ave., for several years, has left for Scotland after an absence of 35 years. Mr. Currie has two sisters still residing in Scotland and plans to spend his remaining years in his homeland.

THUNDERBIRDS DISMISS TIDE FROM CUP WITH BRILLIANT SHOWING ON SATURDAY

Macdonald Park was the mecca of several hundred rugby enthusiasts from widely spaced pockets of interest last Saturday afternoon when Victoria Crimson Tide were somewhat unluckily dismissed from the McKee Cup competition by U.B.C. Thunderbirds by a goal and a try (eight points) to a penalty goal (three points).

Interest now passes to the mainland where the Thunderbirds will meet the winners of a match between Vancouver Rebs and North Shore to decide the issue.

For 20 minutes of the first half Tide were very much on the defensive. Lacking combination behind the scrum, although Lin Patterson hooked well to give them a fair share of the ball, they did not inspire confidence. Thunderbirds on the other hand made the most of a definite superiority in the line-out, and the lively opportunism shown by their impressive outside half, Tim Cummings, who paved the way for two spectacular tries in quick succession, the latter being goal with certainty.

INDIVIDUALISM

The first try after 18 minutes was a brilliant piece of individualism, when after a quick heel and pass Cummings was fast off the mark and his would-be tacklers were left standing by elusive body swerves and sheer pace.

Close on the restart, a wild back pass that Tide fullback, Rob Wilson, could not gather resulted in Cummings gaining possession with the Tide defence spread-eagled. A judicious punt to the right saw Ernie Pull racing through with the ball at his feet. More often than not such a situation ends in the ball passing out of control or a fumble, but the bounce was right and Ernie safely gathered without slackening speed and was over the line without challenge.

After missing two attempts to kick a penalty goal Don Burgess was successful in registering three points for Tide with his third and most difficult effort. With a vertically placed ball the angled kick five yards from the touch line was a winner all the way.

INJURY IS FELT

From this point on Tide rallied and applied great pressure throughout the second half.

Their forwards gained the upper hand. After an injury Cummings lost much of his effectiveness and the Thunderbird backs lost all rhythm and offensive power. For long periods Tide were camped on the Thunderbird 25-line and they launched attack after attack with Bob Wilson frequently coming in line to make the man over.

WINE FROM SAANICH RANKS AMONG FINEST AVAILABLE

The fruitgrowers of Vancouver Island and in particular those of Saanich, can be assured of a market for their crops as the local wine industry expands.

Already Saanich has led the rest of this continent in the installation of the most advanced and scientific machinery, using pneumatic, rather than hydraulic, presses, and the latest in separators and filters.

"Wine is only as good as the fruit that goes into it," says an expert, and here, in Saanich, fruitgrowers have built sheds where fruit with the bloom on, so to speak, is packed into steel containers lined with glass and rushed to the enormous vats where temperature, pressure and fermentation are controlled.

Wild yeasts coat all fruits; these have to be destroyed (with any bacteria present), and to do this layers of Betonite are laid on the surface of the vats.

SPECIAL YEAST

All through the season, specially cultured virile yeasts are flown from Europe to be introduced into the vats. The liquid is led off and the "Must" placed in separators until every drop of liquid is extracted. This is filtered and finally left to mature in vast barrels or tuns made of Osark oak, whose tannin helps the process.

Everything is completely hygienic; new bottles are always used and the product pasteurized and bottled.

The result is wine, which can take its place with that of other wine-growing countries of the world. Canada produces specially hardy vines which are used to restore old vineyards in Europe, grafting the European shoots on the Canadian stocks, and vice-versa.

The bouquet and flavor of local wines owe much to the speed at which fruit is picked and transported. Saanich receives Okanagan fruit within 14 hours of its harvest.

This year, experiments, which are proving highly successful, have been tried with berries like strawberries and local blackberries.

PROBLEMS OF WATER

THE time has come when the provincial government might do well to take a close look at the water situation on Saanich Peninsula and offer assistance and guidance to the thirsty residents of this sea-girt community.

For the past year or more active plans have been launched for the provision of a water supply to almost every part of Saanich Peninsula not already served by the Central Saanich water department, Brentwood Water District or Sidney Waterworks District. To what effect? At the present time, despite a continued and aggressive drive by the ratepayers in these districts, practically the only water service enjoyed at the present time is provided by one of those three established districts.

To cap the negotiations the City of Victoria is now threatening to curtail a water supply to Saanich Peninsula in retaliation for Central Saanich council's failure to support its earlier library plan.

The situation has now reached a point where the government must intervene or permit the supply of water to become an inter-municipal football.

It is scarcely conceivable that a municipal council will jeopardize the health of thousands of children outside its own boundaries as part of a blackmail scheme to support its own projects. Nevertheless, that threat has been uttered and at this moment hangs over the heads of the people of this community. It is equally inconceivable that the government will hear such a threat, unmoved.

The source of water for Central Saanich, for the provincial government's installation at Swartz Bay and for Patricia Bay Airport is Elk Lake. This system also augments the Sidney supply when its own reserves fall low. Elk Lake is the property of the City of Victoria. Initially it was the source of water for the city. When the Sooke watershed was adopted for a city supply the Elk Lake system was abandoned, but the lake, located in Saanich municipality, is still the property of the city and may be used as a political carrot to the Peninsula donkey at any time the city pleases.

The line which runs from Elk Lake north is the property of Central Saanich municipality. Beyond the municipal boundary the line becomes the property of the provincial government. Sidney Waterworks District has been invited to acquire it from the government. Before it may be used to serve any homes on Saanich Peninsula, the line must be acquired from the government. In the meantime a number of connections have been made to the system without the consent of Central Saanich, who supplies the water consumed. There is a water supply out to Piers Island and another to homes in the Dolphin Road area. Central Saanich pumps water for consumers in those areas without recovering any money to defray the cost.

There are also a number of consumers in the Patricia Bay area who are linked to the system.

Central Saanich is entitled to be paid for its work. The government should, and must, act now.

Only the government can make a final and firm ruling on the ultimate destiny of Elk Lake water in North Saanich. Only the government can administer the projected water plans in the combined capacity of arbiter and administrator.

Water is an urgent need in many parts of the district. The mechanics of its supply are already here. The financial burden of extending a household supply will be underwritten by the owners of the properties to be served. The situation more than fits into the avowed philosophy of the B.C. government. It is mechanically practical... it is financially practical and with the assistance of the government it could be administratively practical.

We would welcome an announcement by the provincial government that it is prepared to take action to help the residents of all Saanich Peninsula without being goaded into it.

CO-OPERATION

WHEN a vast number of students took part in a recent basketball tournament at North Saanich secondary school there was a proportionate number of parents and other adults in evidence to organize various aspects of the tournament.

Over a period of some 15 hours or more, basketball games were played in a sequence without break except for meals and night. It was a most impressive gymkhana of sport. The play was appealing to everyone associated with the game. Beyond this, the organization was excellent and the clockwork sequence of the games was a tribute to the sponsors.

Only one complaint was voiced by players and organizers. There were few parents to watch their children put the ball through the hoop.

It is not the first time that such a complaint has been sounded. There is something unpleasant about a situation where the responsible members of the community are called upon to urge a parent to take his place at his son's side as a duty because neither pleasure nor affection has moved him to it.

There are few sports or community activities in the district which bring out proportionate representation of parents. It is a record of which none of us can be proud.

We should all take careful note of the criticism. If we abandon our children to their own devices they may well be called upon some day to pay the final bill.

COMMON MARKET

Discussions between leading men in Europe, and having the aim of broadening the channels of trade, have run into a snag imposed by the French, who appear to hope for a repetition of their own domination.

They fear the business sagacity of the British who have gained so much in the past.

The political success of all Europe will make little headway, if the British are outside that compact. It will come out of unbridled competition. "Free trade" has its dangers, as everything of human genius has, but corrections are obtainable. Over all North America its benefits are manifest.

A measure of free trade and political union is bound to come in Europe, and afterwards, an attempt to form banking and cur-

AUTOMATION AND TOMATOES

Experimental Farm Notes

By R. M. ADAMSON

Automation is becoming increasingly necessary in horticulture, a logical process in a branch of agriculture where labor costs are high.

Nowhere in the horticultural field is its needs felt more acutely than in the greenhouse industry. A project has been initiated recently in the Victoria area by staff members of the Experimental Farm, Canada Department of Agriculture, Saanich, and the B.C. Department of Agriculture to investigate, among other factors, the value of automatic watering and feeding of greenhouse tomatoes.

Growers are urgently seeking means to increase fruit quality and yield, particularly in the Victoria area where, frequently, heavy soil leads to conditions which adversely affect production.

A logical outcome of automation in watering and feeding would be the saving in labor required to apply water and fertilizer. Also, since water is delivered to the plant at a very slow rate, soil compaction, a serious trouble to growers, should be less than that which follows open hose watering.

TWO ARE PLANNED

Two automatic watering systems are planned, one in which water trickles from nozzles in hoses laid on the soil surface, a system growing in popularity in Great Britain, and the other where the water flows from perforated plastic hoses buried in the soil between rows.

Other factors to be studied in the experiment will be the effect of incorporating sand and coarse peat into the soil and of placing walls of straw between the rows of plants to encourage better penetration of moisture.

The 1963 experiment is being conducted at the greenhouse of James Sing, 1717 Blair Ave., Victoria, and will be closely supervised by R. M. Adamson and E. F. Maas of the Experimental Farm staff and A. E. Littler and W. D. Christie, B.C. Horticultural Branch, B.C. Department of Agriculture.

Bands Play To Large Audience On Saturday

By CRITIC

Parents, relatives and friends were on hand in goodly numbers on Saturday evening to hear the second annual concert of the Saanich concert orchestra and the North Saanich secondary school bands.

The concert orchestra, organized under the evening class program of School District 63, and under the baton of its instructor and conductor, Larry Goodman, appeared in three selections: "The Magic Flute Overture", by Mozart; the selection "Westminster", from Eric Coates' "London Suite"; and the lively "Cossack Revels", by Ivan Tchakos.

For the first year after the inception of the orchestra two and one-half years ago the personnel of the orchestra varied considerably. With a constant change in instrumentalists, difficulties arose for the conductor. Now this has changed. Membership does not fluctuate so much, but there is still room for more players, particularly in the bass instrument group.

Mrs. Rose Wright, violinist and concert master, contributes much to the success of the numbers by her strong leadership of the stringed section.

Conductor Stan Magee had the North Saanich secondary school band in good form for its portion of the program. The theme from "Exodus", by Ernest Gold; tone poem, "Impressions of a Painted Desert" by J. Olivadetti were the opening numbers, followed by selections from "The Music Man".

Vocalist Cathie Douma contributed two songs, "Till There Was You", and "Over the Rainbow", and a selection from the "Wizard of Oz" was the band's final number. Contributing also to the "Wizard of Oz Fantasy" were Peri Wright, appearing as the rency uniformity. And this will take time. Later, proposals to bring about a reformation of educational, religious terms and ideas are bound to arise, not because old fashions are useless, but because nature herself demands the new.

Without the shedding of blood there is no remission (of sin).—Heb. 9:22.

"Through mud and blood to green fields beyond" was the motto of the branch of the services that I served. It was not a pleasant thought as I spent my days in training but never the less in later days in action I found that the saying was only too true. The "green fields" of peace that followed the days of war were only won because there were countless numbers of men who, though counting the cost were still willing to pay the price.

So it is with the sins in a man's life. God says that man cannot put away his sin without the shedding of blood. We read in the same chapter that it is not the blood of bulls that accomplish remission, nor is it the shedding of our own blood that can win forgiveness. We will be able in the life to come to enjoy eternal bliss only on the merit of the blood of Christ for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved. Blood is not a pleasant thought but then again neither is the sin of man. But since God set the price of redemption and then His own Son paid it for you why not claim it by faith to day and become His child.

REV. IRENE SMITH TO HEAD BIBLE GROUP IN DISTRICT

Rev. J. A. Tingley, British Columbia secretary of the Canadian Bible Society, began his annual tour of local branches when he addressed the rally of friends and supporters in the North Saanich area, held in Bethel Baptist Church last Wednesday evening.

Rev. W. P. Morton, president, conducted the devotional service, and was assisted by Canon F. C. Vaughan-Birch and Rev. Roy Fleming.

The report of the local branch was presented by Mrs. C. H. Parnell, secretary-treasurer, who said the sum of $1,355.11 was sent to Vancouver, a small increase on the previous year. Mr. Morton paid tribute to Mrs. Parnell for the "wonderful leadership" she gave in the canvassing.

EVANGELISTIC MUSICIANS

Rev. and Mrs. Robert Muir, known as "The Musical Muirs" throughout Canada and the northern United States, will conduct an evangelistic crusade in the Assembly of God church at 9182 East Saanich Road, commencing Tuesday, Feb. 12. It will continue each evening except Saturday throughout the week.

There will be two services on Sunday, Feb. 17 at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The Muirs are Canadian-born and have travelled in the ministry extensively singing, playing, and preaching the gospel.

The pastor and congregation of the Assembly of God have extended a general invitation to these special services.

Captain Victor Browne, Chief of Staff to the Flag Officer Pacific Coast, will be in Ottawa January 29 to 31 attending an Emergency Measures Organization federal orientation course. It will deal with various aspects of federal, provincial and municipal planning for civil emergencies.

The second inter-club coffee party for all Sidney ladies' clubs to be held in St. Andrew's Hall on Saturday, Feb. 16.

Plans are also being made for a rummage sale in the near future.

CUP GAME TO BE REPLAYED

By HALF-BACK

Because of very bad weather conditions, all but one game was cancelled last Saturday for Sidney soccer teams. However, Sidney Flyers played Island Tug and Barge in an exceptionally well-matched game at Beacon Hill Park. The game ended in a two-all tie after 20 minutes of overtime. The goals were scored by Bobby Saville and David Pample. This was a cup game so it will be replayed (with corners counting) next Saturday at Queens. This should prove a very interesting game well worth watching. Next Saturday, the following games are scheduled: Div. 4, Wright's Oil Service vs. Army and Navy Vets, at Sidney; Div. 5, Mitchell and Anderson vs. Royal Gorge, at Bullen; Div. 6, Sidney Legion vs. Royal Oak, at Layritz; and Div. 7, Sidney Flyers vs. Island Tug and Barge at Queens.

Bark protects a tree and is as essential to its life as your skin is to you. Each year as the tree grows it adds a new layer of wood and another of inner bark. Many kinds of trees may be readily identified by their characteristic bark.

CONVERSATION PIECE

Dokhobors Fanatical But Not All Are Irresponsible

By DORIS LEEDHAM HOBES

For many years Lance Whittaker, owner and editor of our sister paper, The Oak Bay Leader, lived in the Nelson, Kootenay and Grand Forks districts of B.C.

There, he had contact with the Dokhobors, and, at the Women's Press Club meeting on January 27 Mr. Whittaker explained and elucidated many points in the problems connected with them.

To begin with, few of us realize that, when, in 1725, a large group of Russian peasants revolted against the Tsarist government and the oppression of the church, which took one man in five for the priesthood, a great loss of manpower among tillers of the soil, they vowed to live by the literal words of the Bible.

They owed no allegiance to church or state, consequently suffered great persecution, including death, imprisonment and banishment to Siberia.

NEW CLIMATE

Tolstoi, aided by the English Society of Friends (Quakers), sought to place these people in a settlement, where they could live at peace in a climate approximating to that of Russia.

After an abortive trial in the Isle of Cyprus, Canada was chosen, and in 1898, the first settlement was placed on Saskatchewan Crown lands. Here they lived and worked, built houses and kept strictly to themselves.

However, in due course, and following the legal procedure with Crown lands they applied for ownership, the Dokhobors refused to give the oath of allegiance to the monarch.

Saskatchewan, in 1914, determined to try to integrate these people by education, asked their leaders to go over the school curriculum with them and decide which subjects they would allow their children to be taught! This was done, and the three R's chosen. No science, no history, no wars, no kings!

This plan proved so successful that now Dokhobor children take all the subjects.

This plan has not been followed in B.C.

NO DEVIATION

This religious sect has had 12 generations of one family, Verigin, as their spiritual leaders, and stage that provision had been allowed not deviated one iota from nearly 300-year-old ideas. Old members of the sect have complete authority.

BIG INDUSTRY

Canada's brewing industry operates 50 plants in nine of 10 provinces and is represented in 325 communities from coast to coast.

They are hard working, honest and kindly folk, but with an iron core of fanaticism based on what they think is Bible teaching.

Mr. Whittaker said that their refusal to kill or to participate in war extends to all animal life and at one time they refused to wear leather shoes.

Their houses, though spotless, have no beauty, no comfort, no color. In fact, among the extreme members the possession of a rug spelled worldliness as these things separated them from God and must be eliminated by destruction by fire. In the first instance of clothes stripping, this was done to get near to their Creator and caused such a sensation that now it is used as a means to draw attention to their grievances.

PROVISION MADE

As for refusal to bear arms, this was pointed out at an early lowered for conscientious objectors, on religious grounds.

It was the splinter groups, the fanatical elements that refused to integrate. They were God's chosen people and welcomed martyrdom

Undoubtedly Starlings Says Aviarist

Mysterious birds of which Bea Hamilton wrote last December are undoubtedly starlings, according to a Saanich bird watcher.

Ivan S. Day, of 1516 McRae Ave., who is better known for his information on Australia, writes as their glory. Refusal to speak English when it suited them is just one of their methods of isolation from the world.

If somehow it could be got across to the Dokhobors that all around them are people of good will who also worship Jesus Christ and take the Bible as their guide and teacher, they might eventually integrate. They, like all fanatics, feel that they have a message.

A few Dokhobors are in high places in our land, splendid characters with the strong background of Puritanism which built up the early settlements of the United States.

There is a strong moral integrity among them and no juvenile delinquency as we know it.

They are excellent farmers, given good land, and their jam factories are run on a profit-sharing basis, for the prosperity of them all.

to enclose a clipping from the British publication, Avian and Cage Birds, describing the increase in population of the starling.

He notes that the birds on Russell Island were undoubtedly the European starling which are increasing rapidly each year on Vancouver Island. Two pairs nested in his garden last summer and a flock of about 50 were seen flying over his home last week.

Stressing that his comment is offered "in a friendly, not critical spirit", the bird watcher expresses surprise that the starling could be confused with the siskin. They are different in color, voice and size as well as feeding habits, he observes. The starling is similar in size to the robin, suggests Mr. Day, except for the plumper body and glide at the end of its flight.

The clipping from the British journal offers some observations on the vast flocks of starlings seen in the British Midlands. The report is as follows:

SPECTACULAR FLIGHTS

The starling is famous for its spectacular roosting flights during the winter; one site close to Northampton was estimated to contain over 1,000,000 birds in January, 1960. On several occasions I observed flocks of 2-3,000 flying into this area, but the estimate of the total numbers is staggering. The total of 13,000 using another site is a mere drop in the ocean compared with this, and the noise at dusk must have been deafening, for starlings are vociferous birds at the best of times.

for as a donation and deposited in the association's general bank account.

In his letter to the board containing the suggestions, Mr. Clowes noted that under the present system "the association might be financially victimized if any persons of less than perfect honesty should become involved in its monetary dealings".

He said it appeared that the scope of Sanscha's activities is widening and the volume of money passing through its hands will likely increase considerably in the future.

"The opportunities for petty pilfering or outright embezzlement of the association's funds will correspondingly increase," said the auditor.

He emphasized that he was not questioning the integrity of the past or present officials, "but we have to consider things that could conceivably happen in the future when other than the present officials have control of the association's affairs."

SANSCHA

SUGGESTIONS MADE TO TIGHTEN ACCOUNTING

Tightening up of accounting procedures of the Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall Association has been recommended by a local accountant.

The suggestions were made by B. W. W. Clowes of 1333 Land's End Road, Deep Cove, after he completed an audit of Sanscha's accounts for the period November 1, 1961 to December 31, 1962.

Principal recommendations made by Mr. Clowes were as follows:

- That the treasurer be provided with a set of pre-numbered receipt books properly imprinted with the association's name;
- That the treasurer be provided with a more commodious cash book and ledger, and a small set of files where Sanscha's records may be readily referred to, which, said Mr. Clowes, is impossible under the present system;
- That admission tickets for events held under the association's direct control be imprinted with Sanscha's name and left in the treasurer's custody between events;
- That responsibility for collection of revenue from special events be charged to two members of the board of directors who should, upon turning over the proceeds to the treasurer, or depositing them in the bank, give the treasurer a concise account of the various sources of the revenue, showing also the disposition of any cash which may have had to be paid out and valid receipts therefor from the recipients; and,
- That the exact total of interest on notes, and not a round amount as is the present practice, be transferred to the separate account in the bank. This would write off the whole payment due at one blow. Noteholders cheques that are neither cashed or turned back as a donation should be received

NATIONWIDE WOMEN'S SERVICE GROUP INVITES NEW MEMBERS TO GANGES BRANCH

The building of community halls in eastern, western and central Arctic is a unique project for a women's group. Eskimos in Frobisher Bay and Tuktoyaktuk have been provided with community centres by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, and another is under construction at Baker Lake.

The I.O.D.E. was organized in 1900 by Mrs. Clark Murray of Montreal. Founder's Day, February 13, will be observed by 979 chapters, reaching from Yukon to Newfoundland. The order co-operates with National Chapters of I.O.D.E. in Bermuda and the Bahamas, and is associated with the Victoria League, in England, and the Daughters of the British Empire in the U.S.A.

More than 30 women comprise the membership, who raise and disburse more than $1 million annually. One third of this amount is spent on education.

During 1962 more than 2,000 schools were adopted and assisted; 1,810 students received scholarships, bursaries and grants; over 1,800 prize books were sent to hostels and schools in the far north.

Children of Canadian war veterans were awarded close to $75,000 from I.O.D.E. First and Second War Memorial funds to provide 14 post-graduate overseas scholarships of $2,000 each, and 29 bursaries in Canadian universities to the value of $1,000 each.

Through the continuous work of

I.O.D.E. members, thousands of knitted and sewn articles of clothing and quilts have been made for distribution. Destitute and refugee children have received care through sponsorship of I.O.D.E. chapters.

Half a million dollars is spent annually in this field of service—four-fifths of the amount in Canada, and the rest on supplies shipped to Europe, Korea, West Indies, Hong Kong and India.

The I.O.D.E. is a patriotic, non-sectarian women's organization, one of the largest in Canada. Through education and service it stimulates patriotism, fosters unity within the Commonwealth, and provides an efficient organization for prompt and united action in times of emergency. By its diversity of interest it offers a satisfying outlet to any women who is a Canadian citizen or British subject.

H.M.S. Ganges Chapter invites any Salt Spring Island woman, who is interested in working for the betterment of Canada and its people, to become a member of the order.

Inquiries may be directed to the secretary, Mrs. V. C. Best, Ganges.

GROWING BLOOMS TO BE SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

Salt Spring Island Chrysanthemum Society will hold its first meeting of the year, on Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Wilson, Ganges Hill.

Mrs. Alex McCabe, Victoria, who is well-known to the local society will discuss, "The Growing of Chrysanthemums". All meetings, in future, will be held on the second Wednesday of each month. Persons interested are cordially invited to attend this meeting. New members will be welcome.

GOODMAN IS NAMED TO NEW TERM ON FIRE DISTRICT

Third annual meeting of the Salt Spring Island Fire Protection District was held on January 30, at Ganges, with W. H. Bradley presiding.

D. L. Goodman was re-elected trustee to the five-man board for a further three-year term. Other members are W. H. Bradley, Peter Cartwright, George Croft and A. G. House. Secretary is Mrs. N. T. Volden and treasurer, Mrs. G. Croft.

Fire Chief F. W. Donaghy reported 22 alarms answered during the year, five of which were house fires. Total value involved was $125,000 with actual loss of approximately $2,700.

Total of 1,450 training hours were spent by the 18-man volunteer fire department. Two instructors from the fire marshal's office, Vancouver, conducted courses for

Mrs. W. Davis has returned from a hurried trip to Nashville, Tennessee, where she attended the funeral of her brother-in-law. She flew there and back by jet aircraft.

Don Robson is spending the week-end in Vancouver.

Miss Judy Williams is home for a few days' holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Williams.

Mrs. Jeanie Pattison came over from Vancouver to spend a few days at her summer home here.

A small grass fire got out of control at the property of Arnold Sater last Tuesday, and for a short while threatened two houses. Fast work by volunteers soon had it under control.

A very unusual visitor came to Casa Carolano last Sunday. A small, friendly pigeon flew in out of the blue, and proceeded to make himself right at home. He was fed and watered by Tom Carolan and Archie Georgeson, who soon was able to catch him, and read the numbers on his leg band. This information was relayed to Harry McKeever, of the B.C. Government Travel Bureau. The pigeon was crated and sent to Mr. McKeever, who will determine who the owner is, and have him returned.

Mrs. V. C. Best was a visitor to Victoria, Saturday, where her husband, Capt. V. C. Best is a patient in the Veterans' Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Winsby, formerly of Prince Rupert and now resident in Nanaimo, were visitors to Ganges at the week-end, guests of Mrs. Winsby's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hill, Churchill Road, spent the week-end in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Derksen, formerly of Vancouver, have taken up residence in the W. H. Bradley home on Booth Canal. Mr. Derksen will be in charge of baking at McGill's Bakery, Ltd., Ganges.

A local orchestra, organized by J. H. M. Lamb and consisting of Mrs. G. Nitsch, Mrs. Black, Mike Byron and W. B. Shaw will make its debut February 15 in Mahon Hall, at a Valentine dance, proceeds from which will go towards purchase of instruments and other musical items.

Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Stanton, Scott Road, have returned from a five-week visit to Elsa, Yukon.

Visiting Mrs. R. T. Meyer and Miss Dorothy Mickleborough, Vesuvius Bay, recently, were their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Mickleborough, Toronto, also Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Garratt, Toronto.

Miss Conner Cruickshank, Fraser Valley, who was the guest for a month of Miss Emily Smith, Vesuvius Bay, returned home on Tuesday. Mrs. Russell Yuill, St. John, New Brunswick, arrived Wednesday to visit her cousin, Miss Smith.

There are 15 volunteers in the Ganges area and three at Fulford. Plans are under way to provide a fire hall at Fulford, and it is expected that with suitable accommodation for training resulting, the number of volunteer firemen in Fulford area will increase to six.

No Novelty For First War Veteran Here

Cold European weather is no novelty to veterans of the First World War.

Pender Island man who went to Europe with the Canadian forces during that war is F. Dickinson. When he read recently of frozen rivers and frigid weather in England, Mr. Dickinson went through his records and came up with two photographs taken while he was over there.

Both pictures depict a group of Canadian soldiers dancing with three nursing sisters. The scene lies under a blanket of snow and the dancefloor is the ice on the Thames.

They were taken in the winter of 1917.

Mr. Dickinson notes that one of the sisters, clad in ankle-length white gowns, was a Sister Whitehead, of Vancouver Island.

CHRISTENING CEREMONY AT GANGES CHURCH

A christening ceremony was held on Sunday, in Ganges United Church, with Rev. Dr. Norah Hughes officiating, when the nine-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bradley, Ganges Hill, received the names, Yvonne June. Godparents for the little girl were Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Volden.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Irl Bradley, the paternal grandparents, entertained at a luncheon at their home, when guests included the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sylvester; Mr. and Mrs. Bogart Bradley and daughter, Ina, Port Alberni, and Miss Shirley Horner, of Victoria.

FOUR PILGRIMAGES TO OLD BATTLEGROUND THIS YEAR

The Royal Canadian Legion has announced that some 320 Canadian parents will have a chance to visit graves of lost of kin killed in World War II and buried in Holland. Four pilgrimages are being organized this year to war cemeteries in The Netherlands.

The pilgrimages are organized by The Netherlands War Graves Committee, a voluntary organization. The Legion acts as an agent for the Dutch group which has been providing extra care for Canadian graves since the war.

Chairman of the committee, Herman Goetzan said in Ottawa: "The people of The Netherlands are extremely pleased to be able to offer accommodations and hospitality to four groups this year."

The quotas for the 1963 pilgrimages have already been filled from applications received last year. Successful applicants for the first pilgrimage will be announced within the next few weeks, explained

IT'S GOOD TO BE UP!

WHEN DAWN WAS BREAKING

She Saw It All As Nature Played

By BEA HAMILTON

With a fresh fall of snow in Fulford on Sunday, Jan. 31, wild creatures seemed to take on a new zest in life. Even the two seals out in Fulford Harbor cavorted near the shore.

They leaped and splashed, turning over and over, heads, tails and flippers appearing and disappearing in a perfect cart-wheel of activity. Their joy and excitement was in perfect accord with the many species of ducks as they performed their morning ablutions. The waters surged and sprayed, boiled and rippled as birds and mammals put on a water show for those who were up at dawn.

TINY FOOTPRINTS

Tiny footprints made patterns in the white snow as birds and animals criss-crossed their trails, with here and there a tell tale scurry as some raccoon or wild cat sought his breakfast. Birds darted from bushes, chirps and calls bidding a good morning to all... all except one little bird. It lay flat in the three inches of fluffy snow on the front verandah, so still it seemed frozen into the drift, its brown tail a mere pencil mark in the snow and its tint head motionless. With a feeling of pity, watchers moved to go out and rescue what looked like a bird frozen into the ice and snow. The little thing suddenly burst out of its cosy white bed, ploughed head-first into a tiny drift, swooshed along with wings fluttering, and, with a final flutter, sending a shower of snowflakes flying, the little brownish Junco gave a joyful bob of her dark head then flipped a large Towhee off the feeding table and proceeded to eat her breakfast—fresh from her snow bath and cheeky as all Juncos are.

ALL FEEDING

The Purple Finch, the Song Sparrow, and the Quail, all took turns at the feeding table. Out on the lawn, a flock of about 30 Red-wing Blackbirds stopped for a moment's chat with a dozen or so Robins—they walked together over the snow in perfect neighborly harmony, and then the musical Blackbirds gave a call or two and all flew away.

And all this happened before the world had awakened along the shores of Fulford... and it all reminded me of a few lines by Kipling in his Jungle Books:

"When dawn was breaking, the sambur belled
Once, twice and again—
And a doe leaped up—and a doe leaped up
In the woods where the wild deer sup—

Thus I, scouting alone, beheld—
Once, twice and again..."

It is true there were no deer and no sambur (Indian Elk) but the dawn was breaking and Nature was at her loveliest... and I saw it all.

LIFE of the PARTY

CHARLIE ALWAYS REMEMBERS

Depend on Charlie never to forget, even when his firm suddenly makes him fly up to Prince George on the very weekend we're celebrating a birthday. And sure enough, it was the long distance call he made that eventually got the party mood going. Charlie is always the life and soul of a party—and how he hates to miss one! As long as he can reach a telephone, bless him, he very rarely does.

After 6 p.m. each evening (and all day Sunday) long distance rates drop by about one quarter. Vancouver to Kamloops, for example, can cost as little as $1.05.

Why don't YOU phone somebody near or dear tonight, when long distance calls are cheapest?

Scene of Drowning Tragedy

Ladder extends to hole in melting ice where John Middlemas drowned last Friday. The tragedy occurred on a pond on the property of C. O. Myers, 9005 East Saanich Road. The youngster died despite valiant efforts of Sidney volunteer firemen to revive him with an inhalator.

JOHN MIDDLEMAS

YOUNGSTER DIES AFTER PLUNGE INTO ICY WATER

Despite the concerted efforts of Sidney volunteer firemen, five-year-old John Middlemas died within 30 minutes of being pulled from the icy waters of an irrigation pond last Friday afternoon. The youngster plunged through thin melting ice over a pond on the property of C. O. Myers, at 9005 East Saanich Road, after crawling through a wire fence surrounding the water. The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Middlemas, 2527 Bazan Ave., in Sidney.

An inhalator was applied for half an hour by the firemen who were at the scene within minutes of an alarm being turned in by Mrs. Peter Whitehouse of 9016

East Saanich Road, but all efforts proved futile and the boy was pronounced dead by Dr. D. R. Ross.

The Sidney boy was staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gray, 8995 East Saanich Road, for the day, and was playing with four-year-old Carrie Gray when the tragedy occurred. Fortunately, the little girl did not venture on to the slushy ice covering the pond. The dead boy had walked over most of the pond before plunging through the ice less than 10 feet from the side opposite where he had first stepped off the land.

The Middlemas family have only been in Sidney since the fall after

Patronage Falls Off As Company Calls For Reduced Bus Schedule To Saanich Peninsula

Continued decline in public patronage has induced Vancouver Island Coach Lines to seek further modification in its services to Sidney and the western side of the peninsula.

Addressing Saanich lands and planning committee last week Traffic Manager V. A. Downard presented a gloomy picture of declining revenue and asked that Saanich council should not oppose the application to be made to the public utilities commission for revised schedules.

Factor that will largely preserve the existing Victoria-Sidney service is the summer months day excursion traffic from Anacortes, coupled with the decision of the department of defence to withdraw their transportation service for Patricia Bay workers as from March next, said Mr. Downard. This latter event will give the Coach Lines from 20 to 25 extra daily passengers, he estimated.

NEW ROUTE

As now proposed the 8.35 a.m. bus from Victoria to Brentwood Bay and Mount Newton will be cancelled. The 7.45 a.m. departure for Sidney will be retained to leave Victoria at 7.15 a.m. It will drop workers at Patricia Bay at 8.05 a.m. and proceed direct to Deep moving from Edmonton. They first moved to Canada five years ago from London, England, when Mr. Middlemas was employed on the Avro Arrow project in the east. He is presently employed as a sheet metal worker at the Patricia Bay Airport plant of Fairey Aviation Co.

Besides his parents, the youngster leaves two sisters, Brenda, 16 and Lynn, 8, and two brothers, Alan, 12 and Robin, 10. A funeral service was held at 2 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 4, at St. Andrew's Anglican Church in Sidney.

IMPORTANT BASEBALL MEETING

An important meeting of the Babe Ruth Baseball League will be held in Sanscha Hall at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 13. This will be the final meeting before baseball potentials from the Saanich Peninsula are presented to the president of the Cosmopolitan Babe Ruth Baseball League in Victoria.

Last season, two teams from this area were entered in the league. All persons with an interest in baseball are urged to attend this meeting.

A third team has already been established in the Deep Cove-Ardmore area. It is managed and coached and playing fields are provided by VU 33 Navy Squadron.

Cove, departing from thence for Sidney at 8.30 a.m. It then becomes the 9 a.m. Sidney to Victoria and will take one hour on its return journey by way of Mills Road, Patricia Bay and West Saanich Road to Mount Newton Road where it is timed at 9.12 a.m., Brentwood Bay, 9.17 a.m. and Prospect Lake, 9.35 a.m.

The round trip on this service will extend to 2 3/4 hours.

Unaltered will be the 6.30 a.m. Victoria to Sidney, and 7.20 a.m. Sidney to Victoria. Further curtailment proposed is that the late services 10.30 p.m. Victoria to Sidney, and 11.10 p.m. Sidney to Victoria will run on Fridays and Saturdays only.

Dexter Champion of Hilton, Alta., spent a week in Sidney visiting his father, on Third St., and his mother, who is a patient at Rest Haven Hospital.

W. J. Wakefield, Third St., received word Tuesday from Winnipeg that his brother-in-law, Bill Black, had passed away. The late Mr. Black had been a staff member of the Great West Life Assurance Company for 50 years and after his retirement last May, spent a few weeks in Sidney.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. White, of Saanichton, had as guests over the week-end, Pastor and Mrs. Frank White of Mission City, also Mrs. E. F. White of Chilliwack. Pastor White is the Book and Bible House manager for the Seventh-day Adventists in British Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Sterne, Patricia Bay, had as guests their son, Flt.-Lieut. and Mrs. W. B. Sterne with young sons, Karl and Greg. They were accompanied by Mrs. Sterne, Jr.'s parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cameron of North Bay, Ont. Mr. Cameron left Vancouver for Ontario while his wife journeyed to Moses Lake, Washington, where her son-in-law is stationed with the R.C.A.F. During her stay in Washington she will take care of her young grandsons while their parents enjoy a holiday in Phoenix, Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Sterne are among those in the district who will be taking a three-hour cruise on the Motor Vessel "Queen of Saanich", which will be accepted by the government at a ceremony on Saturday, Feb. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanley Robinson, of Calgary, have taken up residence in their new home at 9720 Glynwood Park, a new subdivision in Ardmore district on the Patricia Bay coast. They have had their new home built to their own specifications and are looking forward to the spring when they can enjoy gardening. Mr. Robinson has been associated in the investment business and is now semi-retired. They have a daughter who attended Manitoba University before her marriage, and who is now living with her husband and family at Dawson Creek. The newcomers are very happy in their new surroundings, even to enjoying the recent snowfall and rains. Both are members of Holy Trinity Church.

Passenger load figures presented by the company show that 117,802 were carried on the Sidney run in 1960, declining to 110,626 in 1961, with an improvement to 112,676 last year, attributed by Mr. Downard to the World's Fair excursions from Anacortes which on occasions carried 150 passengers and rarely less than 120.

Figures for the West Saanich route were up from 45,683 in 1961 to 47,258 last year, largely because of extra schedules for the Butchart Gardens evening concerts, but the decline in patronage through the autumn months was most marked, it was stated.

Further distressing blow to the company's fortunes was the loss of the mail contract following curtailment of the C.P.R. Nanaimo to Vancouver service, resulting in the loss of several thousand dollars yearly, said the spokesman.

"But for the Anacortes and Gulf Islands excursions in the summer the Sidney service would be in dire trouble," he added.

Of the Cadboro Bay service, in which for the present there are no changes proposed, Mr. Downard said "we are about 25 per cent down on 1960 figures and I don't think it can go down any more."

Record Set As Mercury Soars to 61

Weather-wise, last Sunday was one of the most unusual February 3rds on record in this area.

Temperatures were the most unusual aspect of the day, with a new high being established. Department of transport meteorological office at Patricia Bay Airport recorded a maximum temperature of 61 degrees. Previous high for February of 59 degrees was recorded on February 26, 1943. Records of the weather have been kept at the airport since 1941.

At the experimental farm at Saanichton, maximum and minimum temperatures recorded on Sunday were 60 and 38 degrees.

For the one-hour period between two and three p.m., at the airport, average wind speed was 35 miles per hour. The maximum gusts were not recorded as the meteorological office does not have the required equipment for taking such readings.

At 8 a.m. on Sunday morning the mercury stood at 49 degrees at the airport. By noon, it had climbed to 57 degrees, and at 1 p.m. it reached 60 degrees.

In the absence of Mrs. J. H. Crossley, Mrs. H. R. Evans, assistant group leader, presided, and welcomed eight members and two guests, Mrs. C. H. Whitmore and Mrs. Carol Williams. The devotion was taken by Mrs. Ken nard, followed by Mrs. A. Ostrom presenting a continuation of "Old and New Canadians" from the study book.

Officers' reports and committee reports for the year were presented at the meeting. The sum of $50 was voted to be sent to the general meeting.

The group made plans to each month have a member prepare and present a form of home baking to Miss Ruth Blatchford, who is a patient at Glenwarren Private Hospital in Victoria.

Following the Mizpah benediction, refreshments were served. Tea hostesses for the evening were Mrs. H. Clark and Mrs. J. C. Erickson.

FRANK KIRBY IS TOP MAN WHEN SHOW CLOSSES

Frank Kirby, Sidney fur farmer, was top man when the Vancouver Island branch of the National Chinchilla Breeders of Canada held its annual show of animals and pelts in Sanscha Hall at the week-end.

Mr. Kirby took 20 ribbons and showed the medium light champion and reserve and medium color champion and reserve and second highest aggregate.

Other local winners among the more than 200 entries were Jack Lee, of Royal Oak, who took six ribbons for live animals and seven for pelts including best of show. Neil Coutts of Salt Spring Island was awarded five ribbons for his animals and two for his pelts.

Mrs. C. H. Whitmore has invited the group to hold its meeting at the manse on Wednesday evening, Feb. 27.

the Drama of DRUGS

By JIM BRIGHAM.

It's always been pretty fashionable to complain about doctor bills, along with other favorite targets of criticism, like taxes and funeral expenses. The most expensive specialist's fees today pale into insignificance when compared to the whopping payment tendered by Catherine the Great of Russia to Thomas Dimsdale, an eighteenth century English specialist in the treatment of smallpox. For journeying to Russia and giving a primitive form of smallpox vaccination to the Russian Empress and her fourteen-year-old son, the Grand Duke Paul, Dimsdale received the staggering sum of $130,000! To match this, a modern doctor would have to send a bill for more than $1,000,000.
